Constellation Operating Services

To whom it may concern

I have used Precision Machine's double rotary fuel feed valves and screws for many years. The innovative design and consistent high quality of these products, combined with their reliable long service life has saved our company thousands of dollars as compared to the OEM and other competition products.

Equipment failure is not an acceptable reason for down time at the facility, and the precision Machine products have preformed to support us the way I needed them to.

If you should have any questions please call me.
